REAL MURDERER MAKES A FULL
CONFESSION AND THEN HANGS
HIMSELF TO A TREE

WRONG MAN

Pretty Young Girl Was the VICTIM of Brutal Assassin

Thirty Years Ago He Assaulted and Killed Child—Innocent Man Was Hanged.

MINOT, N. D., September 13.—The dead body of Charles Herzig, who left a written confession of the crimes of rape and murder committed near Youngstown, Ohio, over thirty years ago has been found by a posse of searchers hanging to a tree in a secluded ravine just over the line in the county of Wallace.

TOLD STORY OF CRIME

Pinned to his breast was a piece of wrapping paper on which was written the following:

"MY NAME IS CHAS. HERZIG. OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO I MURDERED AND RAPED A YOUNG GIRL NAMED LIZZIE E. GROMBACHER NEAR YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO. CHARLES STERLING, AN INNOCENT MAN, WAS TRIED, CONVICTED AND HANGED FOR THE MURDER OF THIS GIRL. IF MY BODY IS EVER FOUND, NOTIFY MY MOTHER, KATHERINE HERZIG, AT GIRARD, OHIO."

If Herzig had not left a written confession of a threat of suicide at the Bier ranch his body might never have been found for years, as it was hanging in a spot seldom visited.

USED VEIL TO STRANGLE

Around his neck was a shred of green veiling such as women use for face veils.

It is recalled by a former Youngstown man here that Lizzie Grombacher wore such a veil when murdered and that part of it was used to strangle her.

CONFESSED TO THE MURDER

The piece found about Herzig's neck is supposed to be the remainder of the veil, as he showed such a piece to a fellow ranchman named Olsen, to whom he told the story of his crime, declaring that he had kept it all these years so as to use it to end his own life some day.

At the time it was made he thought Herzig demented.

Herzig said after committing the murder and exchanging shirts with Sterling, he went to Warren, Ohio, where he was employed as a gardener by a lawyer named Ratliffe.

HE FLED TO THE WEST

After Sterling's arrest and trial he fled to Mesopotamia, Pa., where he remained in hiding until the eve of Sterling's execution, when he stole a horse and went West.

He settled in Telluride, Colo., where he married.

Ohio people commenced to move in, and becoming frightened he deserted his wife and child and went to Death Valley in California. Since then he had been a wanderer.

POLICE PUZZLED BY A
YOUNG GIRL'S STORY

Declaration That She Was Not Assaulted in Alameda Boating Club's House.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 13.—Florence Cook, whose age is now given as a little over 14 years, did not spend a night at the Alameda Boating Headquarters at the foot of Chestnut street when she disappeared Sunday afternoon from the home of Mrs. A. B. Yates of 1323 Alameda avenue, to be found near the estuary at 8 o'clock the next morning by Detective Brown, after a long search had been made for her.

STRANGE TALE.

The girl told a story of being misused, declaring that she was taken by the hand by a man in the afternoon near the Yates residence and forced to go to the boat house, where she was locked in a closet at night, drugged with whiskey and criminally assaulted.

At the City Prison last night, after an examination, it was ascertained that the girl was not in the boathouse, although it is possible that she was landed at the wharf from a boat in the early morning, her clothing was bedraggled with mud. Mrs. John A. Pingman, with whom the girl lived for a while, and who has interested herself in the case, gave the police a statement this morning clearing the boat house of any stigma in connection with the affair, as follows:

CONTRADICTORY STORY.

"We have carefully examined the charge of a criminal assault made on Florence Cook at the Club House of the Alameda Boating Club, and we are certain that she is wrong in her statement as to the location, and that she was not assaulted on those premises."

The girl told some conflicting stories, and after she had presumably identified from a picture at the boat house, a well known young man as her assailant, the young man was arrested, but last night, after the matter was thoroughly investigated, he was released and no charge placed against him.

The officers and members of the Boating Club were aroused at the scandal which was brought against the organiza-

Baron Komura Is Stricken TYPHOID Temperature Up to 102

JAPANESE ENVOY IN A SERIOUS CONDITION

BARON KOMURA.

NEW YORK, September 13.—Three physicians who are attending Baron Komura decided today that the Baron has typhoid fever. His intention to return to Japan via Seattle tomorrow has been postponed and nurses were hastily summoned to his apartments in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel today. The Baron's temperature was 102 degrees today and he was said to be very ill, though only in the first stages of the fever.

The decision as to the illness was reached after a consultation of Doctors Francis P. Delafield, Geo. Brewer and W. B. Pritchard.

One of Baron Komura's physicians—W. B. Pritchard—announced later that he disagreed with the diagnosis that the Japanese statesman is suffering from typhoid fever. The typhoid diagnosis, he said, was made by Dr. Delafield, who was especially summoned here from Virginia today to give an opinion on the case. Dr. Pritchard's own diagnosis is as follows:

"My original opinion was that the Baron was suffering from an inflamed gall bladder, and I still hold to that opinion. There is nothing serious in the Baron's condition now, or at any rate this morning."

When Dr. Delafield was shown this statement he still held to the typhoid theory, but refused to discuss the case further.

Jacob H. Schiff called upon Baron Komura today, and being unable to see him, talked with Mr. Takahira instead. Mr. Sato, the Japanese party's spokesman, announced that the conversation related to financial matters.

It has been decided that part of the Japanese mission will return immediately to Japan as originally planned, while Mr. Takahira will remain in this country with Baron Komura.

THESE WOMEN TO TASTE
LIFE IN MONASTERY

Hundreds of Clergymen, Laymen and Their Wives to Live Apart From World.

CHICAGO, September 13.—Nearly 1,000 Episcopalians, clergymen and laymen, will next week go into retreat from the world and will for four days lead a communal life in Chicago, much like that of monks in a cloister.

The retreat will be a group of buildings at the University of Chicago. The participants will be the delegates to the twentieth annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's. This great denominational fraternity numbers 18,000 members.

The idea of the "retreat" will be carried out consistently during the four days the delegates will be in Chicago. They will not necessarily be cut off from the world, but those who wish may live so as to see no one except members of the Brotherhood from Wednesday to Sunday evening.

The University authorities have furnished many of the lower group apartments with almost monastic simplicity.

Women who accompanied their husbands or brothers to the convention will have a taste of the monastic life. For feminine use one of the "co-ed" dormitories has been set aside.

60 PASSENGERS
ARE INJURED

Trailer to a Trolley Car Overturns on the Pittsburg Line.

PITTSBURG, Pa., September 13.—Sixty passengers were injured, nine seriously, by the overturning of a trailer attached to a car on the Homestead division of the Pittsburg Street Railway Company, near the Glenwood bridge this morning.

INJURED ARE REMOVED

The more seriously hurt were taken to the Homeopathy Hospital, where they will be compelled to remain for some time. The others were able to proceed to their homes, after having their injuries dressed.

THE CAR WAS CROWDED

The car and trailer were crowded to their fullest capacity, many of the passengers being workmen on their way to the various plants in the vicinity. There is a steep grade from the Glenwood bridge to Hay's Junction, where cars branch off for surrounding points, and great caution is used by motormen.

BRAKES REFUSED TO ACT

The brakes refused to act properly today, however, and the cars descended the grade with unusual speed. At Hay's Junction there is a sharp curve. The first car managed to round the curve, but the trailer, carrying sixty passengers, was thrown from the track on its side. A scene of almost indescribable confusion followed as the upset trailer was dragged along a considerable distance before the motor car could be stopped. Every one of the sixty passengers were bruised or injured, and it was first reported that four had been killed.

Word was immediately sent to the Glenwood car barns at Glenwood. A special car was despatched to the scene, and all the injured removed to the barns, where they received medical attention and the seriously injured were taken to the hospitals.

It is expected that all of the injured will ultimately recover.

EDWIN MEESE TO VOTE FOR FRANCHISE

Councilman-at-Large in Favor of the Home Telephone Company.

Councilman-at-Large Edwin Meese today stated he was in favor of granting the Home Telephone Company a franchise as he was three weeks ago when the matter first came before the public.

Mr. Meese, who recently had an opportunity during an Eastern trip to observe the workings of the automatic telephone, states that it is a pronounced success, and that its installation here will mean better service. In an interview Mr. Meese says:

"My position is the same now as it was three weeks ago, when I declared in favor of granting the Home Telephone Company a franchise. My reasons for taking this position can be summarized in the following statement, that $1,000,000 of new capital will be added to the city's wealth, that the city will derive at least $20,000 from the sale of the franchise, and that the automatic telephone will give the people of Oakland a better service than they now enjoy.

"Competition in the telephone business may not at all times be desirable, but in view of the probability that the automatic telephone will come into very general use in the near future, I deem it wise to take time by the forelock and install the system now. If we deny the Home Company a franchise now it will simply delay the installation of the automatic phone."

"Of course, the fact that the public generally wishes the new company to be given a franchise has assisted in making up my mind to vote for the franchise. I think the conditions imposed on the new company in the proposed franchise are just, and that they fully protect the city's interests, and as it is reported that the representatives of the new company are agreeable to those terms, I see no good reason why I, as a councilman, should not vote to give the new company the franchise."

CHARGES AGAINST OFFICIAL

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—Charges against Wm. R. Leib, assistant United States Treasurer here, have been forwarded to President Roosevelt. It was reported here today that Mr. Leib's resignation had been demanded, but this was not correct.

Charges against Mr. Leib were preferred by the Civil Service Reform Association of this city. Mr. Leib is chairman of the Schuylkill County Republican Committee. The charges were first made that Mr. Leib violated the order of President Roosevelt, prohibiting Federal officeholders from taking part in politics; second, that Mr. Leib had created public scandal by his activity in political matters in Schuylkill county.

There are about thirty subordinates in the sub-Treasury here, and at various hearings testimony was presented to show that these, or some of them, had been asked by Mr. Leib to contribute to campaign funds.

JOHN S. PARTRIDGE TO LEAD REPUBLICANS

Caucus Names Him to Make the Run Against Mayor
 Schmitz.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—The Republican League caucus last night named John S. Partridge, a young attorney, as the Republican nominee for Mayor.

Daniel A. Ryan was selected as the League's choice for chairman. W. H. Davis was elected vice-chairman of the caucus and convention.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.
 Senator E. I. Wolfe presented the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, The people of San Francisco, in the deplorable condition of municipal affairs that prevailed, turned with confidence to the San Francisco Republican League, and by their votes placed the destinies of the Republic local convention in its control; and, whereas, a supreme trust and the most honorable of obligations were placed upon each and every delegate so elected; and, whereas, in carrying out this trust and deeming this obligation it will be necessary that a solid and unswerving majority be arrayed against the influences that have betrayed the best interests of San Francisco; and, whereas, the delegates of the San Francisco Republican League will be confronted in the convention by a wily and unscrupulous foe, ready to take advantage of any and every division within the ranks that stand for a clean city, clean politics and a clean administration, therefore be it

"Resolved, That each and every member of this caucus hereby binds himself, by his personal pledge, and promises upon his sacred honor, to accept the decision of the majority of the members of this caucus as binding upon his vote in the Republican local convention to be convened on September 19, 1905, and that all the actions determined upon by this caucus shall be carried through the said convention with an undivided and inseparable front; shall be carried through, in fact, as the unanimous action of one body, acting as a unit."

JOIN WITH THE DEMOCRATS.
 The following resolution by Ralph Hathorn of the Thirty-fifth district were also adopted without a dissenting voice:

"Whereas, Experience in the past has demonstrated conclusively that under prevailing conditions success cannot be won for the municipal Republican Party in a political contest carried on as a three-cornered fight; and, whereas, the San Francisco Republican League knows that a majority of the people of San Francisco are honest and do not stand for misgovernment; and, whereas, the San Francisco Republican League knows full well that if this majority of the people is not torn apart by partisan feeling and deceived by clouded issues, it will vote to put in office only clean and honest men; and, whereas, by misrepresentation and false reports a large number of our citizens have been deceived and misled, so that only a

NAYOR MOTT IN THE FIREWORKS

One of the pyrotechnic features of the magnificent display which will follow the destruction of the big mimic city in "Pain's Last Days of Pompeii" next Monday night will be a huge fire picture of Mayor Frank K. Mott, 40x30 feet in size. His lion, and party, will occupy one of the private boxes and enjoy the unique pleasure of seeing himself go up in smoke. These fireworks displays are promised by the management, will surpass anything in that line ever seen on the Pacific Coast. The fireworks displays of many of the largest cities and famous "set pieces" given by Pain at the St. Louis Exposition last summer. The fireworks displays of "Pompeii" will be varied nightly, so that each repeated visit to the big spectacle will reveal new beauties and novelties in the pyrotechnic department. This fireworks festival which lasts for nearly an hour, is merely the concluding feature of the great exhibition. The main feature is the destruction of the mimic city of Pompeii with its hundreds of palaces, temples, columns, and arches and its three hundred citizens by the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius. Before this startling realistic destruction is shown, there are dances by beautiful girls, gladiatorial contests and other sports of the Roman Hippodrome, aerial and acrobatic acts of a high order. The persecution of the Christians is also shown and the whole is a most impressive lesson in ancient and biblical history. "Last Days of Pompeii" will be seen nightly at the Thirteenth and San Pablo avenues for an entire week commencing next Monday, September 18th.

JURY IS SELECTED TO TRY EX-SENATOR EMMONS

Judge Places the Twelve Men in Custody of Officers to Prevent Possible Tampering.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 13.—Shortly after 11 o'clock this morning the jury which is to try former Senator E. J. Emmons on a charge of bribery in connection with the investigation of building and loan associations before the last Legislature, was secured.

Much to the surprise of the big crowd in the courtroom, Superior Judge E. C. Haft, before whom the case is being tried, announced that he would place the jury in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Percy A. Webber and that they should remain in his custody until the end of the trial.

In making this order, Judge Haft said that while he had the utmost confidence in the integrity of the members of the jury, both the People and the defendant, were entitled to an absolutely fair trial. The jurors should not be placed, or permit themselves to be placed, in a position where there was the slightest possibility of being influenced by outside or extraneous matters, as their verdict should be rendered solely upon the evidence to be produced.

In his short address to the jury Judge Haft said the case is one of unusual importance and one which is attracting attention all over the State.

Naturally, he said, the newspapers will publish extended reports of the proceedings, and it is possible some of them will make comments upon the case.

He said it was his desire that no influence other than the bare testimony in the case should enter the minds of the jurors and for that reason he had determined to isolate them during the trial. He then made the order giving the jury into the custody of the Sheriff, and he swore Deputy Webber in as their custodian.

Judge Haft in isolating the jury acted within the provisions of the statutes, but the practice in this country has not been to confine juries during the progress of a

In many of the Eastern and Northwestern States, however, this is the practice, notably in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Immediately upon making the order isolating the jury, Judge Haft, at the request of Attorney Grove L. Johnson, counsel for the defense, granted a motion for a recess until 1:30 this afternoon.

The selection of the twelfth juror was more of a task this morning than had been anticipated. When a recess was taken at five o'clock last evening, eleven jurors had been sworn in, and it was believed that the jury would be completed shortly after court reconvened this morning.

Such was not the case, however, for four takersmen were examined this morning, before the last man, suitable to both sides, had been sworn in.

Don't trifle with the Safety Valve

COFFEE accelerates and over-works the Heart!

This is how it stimulates, and why such stimulation is dangerous.

Over-work weakens and "runs down" a Heart, just as it would a horse.

A Heart that is "run down" continually cries out for more coffee and generally gets it—till the abnormal condition results in Heart-failure or nervous prostration.

Nature sets the pace at which the Heart should beat, just as the Government Inspector sets the safety-valve on a steam boiler—at the highest pressure which it can safely carry.

Tampering with the "safety-valve" is risky.

"Coffee-heart" is the penalty for forcing (with coffee), more work from Heart and Nerves than food supports them in doing.

And—Coffee-heart now debars many people from getting life insurance—an ominous fact worth pondering over.

Postum cures "Coffee-heart" and rebuilds Nerve tissue, while having the rich flavor of fine old Government Java.

Because—Postum is made from the outer coats of Wheat, in which are located the Phosphate of Potash that feeds Brain and Nerve up to normal condition, so that they feel as good all day as coffee makes them feel for a few minutes in the day.

These outer coats do not give up their full contents of Phosphate of Potash, except by thorough boiling—as in Postum.

"Coffee-heart," Dyspepsia, and Nervousness, generally disappear when "Postum" has displaced Coffee six weeks.

A ten-day trial will show marked improvement.

"There's a reason."

GIRL IN FEAR OF CHINESE ARE GLAD FATHER OF PEACE

PARENT MAKES ATTEMPT TO GAIN POSSESSION OF CHILD.

After running all the way from the Lincoln School to the Fashion Livery Stable on Broadway, Delphine Coll, a little girl eleven years of age, succeeded yesterday afternoon in waging a successful battle for her liberty.

A. J. Coll, of Fresno, the father of the little girl tried to persuade her to come and live with him on his ranch in Fresno, but she declined positively to go with him.

Just at that moment Deputy Constable F. W. Newell arrived on the scene, and Mr. Coll tried to persuade him to allow him to drive to the depot with the little one with him. Constable Newell asked Mr. Coll where he was going to take the little girl, and he said he intended to take her to his ranch in Fresno. The little girl protested very strongly and said that she did not want to go with her father, but wanted to stay with Mrs. Lambert. "Have you an order from Court to take this child?" asked Deputy Constable Newell. Mr. Coll answered, "No, I have not."

"Then you shall not take her," replied the Constable and the little girl was taken from the cab and brought to her home.

Shortly time ago Delphine's mother died in Reno, Nevada, where she had been working to give her daughter an education in the Oakland schools. The mother was divorced from the father six years ago, and at that time was given the custody of Delphine, who made her home with Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Lambert, who reside at Eighth and Alice streets.

The little one had a pitiful story to tell of the wrong she said had been done to her, and her mother, for whom she was in mourning. The story dates back six years ago, when Delphine was a little girl five years old. At that time her mother obtained a divorce from her father and she was given into the care of her mother, who went to the mining camps of Nevada in order to support her and give her a good education. Since that time she has made her home with her mother. Upon the death of her mother the father came up from Fresno to attend the funeral. At that time he promised both Delphine and Mrs. Lambert that he would not molest her.

In telling her story Delphine said: "Yesterday when I was coming from school I saw my father, who came up to me and told me to get my books as he was going to take me to Fresno. He brought a lawyer down there, who was riding by the fence across the street. He came up to me and told me I had better go with my father as he had a right to me. But I jerked away and ran. When I got as far as the livery stable he caught me and took me into the office, where he tried to get me into a cab to take me away, but I called Irene Lambert and she helped me to get away. Somebody, who said he was a deputy constable, showed papa his badge and told him to let me go. Then Irene and I came home, while the deputy constable kept papa at the stable. Mrs. Lambert has asked Attorney Crosby to have the court allow her to take care of me, and I would rather have her to do it than to go with papa, because he was cruel to mama and to me."

WILL VOTE FOR THE NEW FRANCHISE

Councilmen Burns and Elliot Strongly in Favor of the Home Telephone Company.

Councilman Elliot of the Second Ward today announced his intention of voting to give the Home Telephone Company a franchise to operate a competing telephone system in this city. The reasons he gives for favoring the new company are that competition will better the service, that the automatic telephone will be the telephone of the future, and that the application now before the Council is apparently made in good faith. In the following interview, which is authorized by Mr. Elliot, he gives his reasons in detail. He says: "The first thing that I did when this matter was presented to me as a Councilman, was to consider the question of whether or not competition would be a good thing for the City of Oakland in the telephone business. After studying the question with all its aspects I came to the conclusion that it would not only be a good thing for the City of Oakland, but that competition would result in better service. "The automatic telephone has something to recommend it, which other telephones have not, and that is the automatic telephone eliminates the fallible or human element, and mistakes are less liable to occur. "In the automatic telephone the use

SUICIDE MYSTERY

Husband of Dead Woman is Held a Prisoner.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Mystery surrounding the death of Mrs. Sargent Sargent, who is said to have ended her life yesterday afternoon at her home, 172 Carl street, by inhaling illuminating gas. The husband of the woman who found her body when he reached home at the dinner hour last night, took possession of the note which she left pinned to her breast, and declared that no one should ever read the contents. This morning he told Captain of Detectives Reynolds that he had lost the last message of the dead, and that its contents were in his mind. "Baby Helen—awaken mamma in time to cook papa's dinner." What the police cannot understand is why Sargent was so anxious to keep the note from public gaze if this was all it contained. His explanation is far from satisfactory to Chief Deputy Coroner McCormick, and under his direction Sargent is detained by the police awaiting the result of further investigation. Mrs. Sargent had been in poor health for a number of months. Yesterday afternoon she had sent her baby girl, Helen, out to play, and then went into the room locking the door behind her. She dressed herself completely, carefully stuffed all the door and window openings, turned on the gas, and then lay down upon the bed of her child to await death. When the husband returned from work at 6 o'clock he found her body and immediately summoned the police. The removal of the body to the morgue was at this time that Sargent announced the finding of the note, and declared that she had intended to commit suicide. Mrs. Sargent was a woman of refinement and education. Sargent was her second husband. Dr. Bailey, to whom she was married in her early womanhood, died about two years ago. Little Helen was the daughter of her first husband. Neighbors say that she and Sargent appeared to be very devoted and their home life was, to all appearances, extremely happy.

STRAVE TO SAVE HIM

Influence Being Used to Get Millionaire's Son Out of Jail.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Influential friends are making a desperate effort to save P. D. Wheatland, son of General Wheatland, the Boston millionaire, who is held at the City Prison on charges of grand and petty larceny. Attorney Alf Wheeler appeared for the accused man in Judge Conlan's court this morning and requested, on behalf of his client, a continuance of one week. His plea, that he had just been called into the case, was now in communication with friends of the prisoner, believed that he could be arranged for him, and that if given time he could prepare a defense that would give his client liberty. There was no objection to a continuance on the part of the prosecution, and Judge Conlan set the hearing on the petty larceny charge for next Wednesday morning. It was while a plea for continuance was being made that Mrs. Bertha Storer swore to a felony complaint against the accused man. She declares that Wheatland robbed her of $50 on the 18th of August, 1904, and Judge Conlan announced after her name had been signed to the complaint that the prisoner would be arraigned on the second charge tomorrow, and that at that time this hearing would be put over to follow the trial on the first charge. Wheatland, already held in default of $200 bonds, has his bail increased to $200. This amount, Attorney Wheeler says, will probably be put up by influential friends of the prisoner today. The attorney, of course, does not say that an effort will be made to adjust Wheatland's troubles out of court, but it is known that pressure is now being brought to bear on the women who accuse him, and that they will be promised a return of all the money alleged to have been stolen in the event of the prosecution being withdrawn. No word has come from the wealthy Eastern relatives of the accused man, but his young wife, who also has wealthy and influential people in the East, is loyal to him, and will do all in her power to save him from jail. Meanwhile the police are still actively engaged in delving into the prisoner's record. They claim to hold numerous complaints from people who were victimized by a plausible "English" gentleman, and the officers cannot be convinced that Wheatland is not the man responsible for all this class of work in San Francisco.

WESTERN PACIFIC

Road Building Will Cost the Company $100,000 a Day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Oronocho today the great center of attraction for the unemployed, and there are hundreds of men flocking into that town, waiting for the commencement of work on the Western Pacific. Ground in this State will be first broken somewhere along the Feather River, and the statement was made this morning that construction may be commenced at any moment. The contractors have been preparing to start work, and there is a great deal of material and machinery gathered along the river in anticipation of immediate orders to start breaking ground. It is estimated that there will be at least forty thousand men employed in various capacities, and the disbursement in California alone, when construction begins, are estimated to be about $100,000 a day. People who are interested in the Western Pacific said that the road will start new enterprises, as several of the Eastern and English bondholders have been in the city and are looking for other business ventures. It is thought that these other enterprises which are mentioned are mainly branch roads, and that there will be a great impetus given to the building of electric lines. Bogue has returned to the city, and with his return the starting of the work is looked for. As yet no appointment has been made to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of George Dillman, who had been employed by the Western Pacific people as a supervising engineer.

BUNKERS TESTIFIES IN THE EMMONS CASE

Former Senator Takes the Stand, Causing a Sensation in the Court-room.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12.—Bunkers has taken the stand to testify in Emmons' case. There was considerable excitement in the court-room when Seymour announced that his first witness would be Harry Bunkers. There was a moment's delay following the instruction to the bailiff to produce Bunkers in court, and presently the deposed Senator, who stands convicted of complicity in the crime of which Emmons is accused, entered the court-room amid a general craning of necks. After Bunkers had taken the witness stand and had qualified, Seymour asked him about a meeting of the committee on January 13th last. Bunkers said that the meeting was attended by himself and former Senators Emmons, French and Wright. SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12.—At the afternoon session, District Attorney Seymour made his opening statement for the prosecution, outlining what the prosecution would seek to prove. He declared to the jury that the prosecution would prove that Emmons, the defendant, as a member of the Senatorial committee on commissions and retrenchments, assumed the right to investigate the affairs of various building and loan associations. He also declared that the prosecution would prove that Emmons, with Bunkers, Wright and French, acting as a majority of the committee, determined to mulct several associations of the character named. He also told of Joseph Jordan having gone to Clarence Grange and others in the quest for booty. Seymour's statement in this connection was wholly historical, being a review of the circumstances attending the investigation of the associations as was disclosed at the Senatorial committee's investigation, all of which has been published, and with which the public is familiar. Johnson made his fight against the in-

BURNS FOR THE HOME COMPANY

Councilman-at-Large H. T. Burns, is strongly in favor of granting the Home Telephone Company a franchise, and states that he will vote to let competition come into the city of Oakland at once in the following signed interview he gives his reasons for supporting the application of the Home Telephone Company. He says: "I don't believe in putting a fence around the town and keeping competition out. I believe competition is a good thing for the city and especially in view of the fact that the Home Company will install an automatic plant completely. I think they should be granted a franchise immediately. In my mind there is no question but what the automatic telephone will be the telephone of the future and the Council, by granting a franchise now will put Oakland in the vanguard of progress. "The offer of the company to bid at least $20,000 for the franchise, and also to lay a conduit for the city's wires means that Oakland will have at least $35,000 more to spend upon public improvement or betterments. This will enable the administration to establish things that it could not do

KOMURA NOT TO SAIL

SEATTLE, Wash., September 12.—Baron Komura today notified Japanese Consul Himizu, that he could not leave here on the steamer Dakota on the 17th, as he is too ill to make the start from New York. He hopes to come west over the Canadian Pacific, sailing with four other members of his suite on the Empress of Japan, October 2. Mr. Denison, the American adviser to the Foreign Office, Col. Takahara, military attache and two secretaries will sail on the Dakota.

MILLIONS FOR HIM

SAN FRANCISCO, September 12.—A blond blue-eyed young man, quietly dressed in gray and carrying a straw hat in his hands, was the center of interest in Judge Coffey's courtroom this morning. He was Charles Templeton Crocker, who sat enthroned in the witness chair, awaiting to be made a millionaire several times over. The young man was the center of a conference made up of brainy masculinity. First, there was the gray Judge; then H. T. Scott and Charles E. Green, legal guardians of the estate, and A. F. Morrison, attorneys for the men who held the important trust. Mr. Crocker told the Judge that he was very much satisfied with the way in which his estate had been managed. The Judge, who has had numerous other estates upon which to found his experience, told the young man that he, too, was satisfied. Then Scott and Green expressed their satisfaction. Since the estate of Jennie Adeline, Charles Templeton and Mary Crocker came into their control its value has more than doubled. Mary Crocker, now Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, received her portion three or four years ago. Miss Jennie Crocker got hers about six months ago, and today Charles Templeton Crocker, having become of age on September 2, received his share, about $5,000,000. After the formalities in the matter of the settlement of the final account of the guardians were disposed of, Mr. Crocker accompanied by his former guardians, left the courtroom without the young man making any positive announcement of his future relations with Mr. Scott and Mr. Green, although it is supposed he will take the same action as his sisters did and appoint them his attorneys in fact to continue the management of the estate.

AGED WITNESS CONFUSED

Attorneys R. H. Countryman and George W. Reed began this morning to give testimony tending to show that the late Nelson Bump was not of sound mind and incompetent to make a will. A long line of witnesses have testified that Bump, after a stroke of apoplexy in 1897, acted strangely, and that he lost the power over body and mind, and in behalf of the four daughters of Bump a set of witnesses are to testify directly the opposite. The first witness to go on the stand this morning was Mrs. M. E. Doty, an old lady, who, however, became considerably confused under cross-examination by Attorney M. C. Chapman. She testified that she knew Bump in his life time and that she believed that he was perfectly rational. Upon cross-examination Chapman wanted to know if she had not told her daughter-in-law one day when asked to go and see Bump, that "she did not want to go and see him, he had such a peculiar old fellow." She testified that she did not remember saying such a thing, but would not swear positively upon this point when pressed for her best recollection of the matter began to mumble and was finally excused, but Chapman demanded that she be in the courtroom at 2 o'clock, at which time he would make an effort to impeach her upon the testimony of her daughter-in-law. The next witness, however, was somewhat more substantial. He was George B. Green, a trustee of Reclamation district No. 150, in which Merritt Island lies, and came very often in contact with Bump. He said that he believed that Bump was sane and of sound mind when he met with Bump in 1902, long after the making of the will. Green, however, testified that he and Bump were always at sword's point with each other over irrigation matters and they disagreed the last time they met, as they had on all former occasions.

WOMAN INDICTED

SAN JOSE, Cal., September 12.—The grand jury today returned indictments against C. A. Pratt and Mrs. Alice Pratt, his wife, charging both with the murder of Frank Bryan, a Gilroy rancher. Bryan was shot and killed ten days ago by Pratt, during an altercation alleged to have been provoked by insulting remarks directed at Mrs. Pratt by Bryan. The two men were neighbors and the shooting took place on the county road that divides their ranches. In an ante mortem statement Bryan declared that after Pratt had emptied the contents of one revolver at him, Mrs. Pratt handed her husband another with which the last and fatal shot was fired. Both are now in jail.

FEARS TO FACE FORMER WIFE

Rather than be haled into court by his former wife and made to answer charges of perjury and other offenses legal and moral made against him by her, Dr. William H. Fanner through his attorneys Gibson, Woolner & Crosby, agreed today to a modification of a divorce granted him by Judge Melvin in 1901 whereby he pays to Kate Fanner the sum of $12,000 to release him from all entanglements and giving her the custody of their son fifteen years of age. Although it has been four years since the decree was granted Mrs. Fanner came in with charges that she had been divorced without her knowledge and that her husband had made affidavit that he did not know where she was and also that she had deserted him when in fact he knew just where she had gone to live with her two daughters by his consent and traveled on a ticket bought for her by him. Mrs. Fanner further states that when she went away from him it was upon his express promise that he would not try and get a divorce from her as she had tried to do so once before while she was on a visit to Chicago and which she had heard of just in time and the proceedings were set aside by Judge Hebbard in San Francisco. She says that he even disguised the fact that there had been a divorce granted from her daughter, Mrs. Bessie Jones, who met him a couple of years after he had been granted a decree, and with whom he went about in San Francisco. She states that Mrs. Jones assisted in general housework and cared for the children; references, 1012 10th. Mrs. Fanner also made a charge to

The Cleomene had been delayed by bad weather and was short of provisions. She was supplied by the Scottish Moors and is expected to reach port in safety.

BLAMES CREDITORS FOR HIS ARREST

SAN FRANCISCO, September 12.—Ira B. Lothrop, who formerly kept a jewelry store in Los Angeles, which failed, was arrested this morning at the request of the Los Angeles authorities who want him to answer felony embezzlement. Lothrop says that his arrest is inspired by creditors of the defunct concern.

CORSET SHIELD IS CAUSE OF TROUBLE

The estate of Jennie Crocker and her brother was about $10,000,000, and each share was now $5,000,000. Among the big values are $2,666,532.33 in the Crocker Estate Company, $2,399,200 in the Crocker Hotel Company, of which $1,585,922 is for the St. Francis Hotel building, the rest for the land on which it stands and the realty adjoining, on which it is proposed to erect additions, $1,175,478.20, property at Bush and Battery streets, $289,137.30, at First and Mission, $461,119, the Shreve Building, Grant avenue and Post street, $1,000,000, and the San Francisco News Company property, $56,852.53. Charles Templeton Crocker is the son of the late Charles F. Crocker and grandson of Charles Crocker, who was a member of the big four—Huntington, Hopkins, Stanford and Crocker, who made fortunes in the building of the Southern and Central Pacific railroads.

NEW MEANS FOR MOVING EARTH

In excavating for the foundations of the new King building at the southwest corner of Thirteenth and Webster streets there are two forces at work, men with chisels and teams and a new contrivance, the result of the brain power and experience of W. H. Fisher of this city. The projectors say that this device is destined very soon to supersede every other method for the moving of earth. The most general use for which these excavators will be needed will be in constructing sewers, building canals, digging basements, erecting levees and embankments, making railroad cuts and fills and elevating and conveying material of every kind. There are scores of other purposes to which this invention is adaptable. For instance, it is the determination of the company to use these machines throughout the mining regions for handling the tailings from the mines and for elevating and conveying the ores for cyanide plants. There is no reasonable depth to which these machines cannot be made to excavate. Placed upon floats or barges they will be used as dredges, elevating from a depth of thirty to fifty or more feet below the surface of the water. MAY IRWIN AT MACDONOUGH

LARGE CROWD GREETED THE ACTRESS AT THE LOCAL PLAYHOUSE.

"Enjoy yourself, for this time another year you may be gone," sang May Irwin, and the big crowd in the Macdonough Theater last evening did not hesitate to take the clever actress at her word, and had a jolly evening of fun provided by "Mrs. Black is Back." And for good measure Miss Irwin threw in several of her songs sung in her own inimitable manner, aided by a chorus, partly before and partly behind the scenes.

Nearly every sentence uttered by Miss Irwin was a laugh provoker. The character of Professor Black is well sustained by Roland Carter.

Some of Miss Irwin's lines verged on the torrid. Withal there is not a single sentence or situation offending in the backcoming of Mrs. Black. It's clean humor that can be appreciated by all classes from book-maker to banker, via other occupations and professions.

It takes Mrs. Black three acts to get back and she consumes, in the play, considerably less than a day. The scene in each act is the same—the home of Professor and Mrs. Black, on the Hudson River, near New York.

As to the plot—if there is such a thing in May Irwin comedy—Professor Black is Mrs. Black's second husband. By her previous marriage Mrs. Black has a son—17 years of age when introduced to us. But to Professor Black, who has never seen the boy, he is but seven years—a little lie told by Mrs. Black to hubby No. 2 in order that she might take the age of twenty-nine years, as, she says:

"I guess the razor slipped and cut seven years off my life."

Well, the Professor grows anxious of "little Johnny of seven years," who is in the wilds of London, England, and desires to see the baby boy. This keeps Mrs. Black busy inventing all sorts of stories to quiet her husband's anxiety to greet "little Johnny."

Finally the boy of seven plus ten comes on the scene and then there is a merry time keeping his identity from the Professor. The young man is forced to wear dresses and become a cook in his mother's household, while his valet becomes a relative of Mrs. Black. Of course, there is a whole lot of fun before the Professor gets enlightenment and when he finally becomes "next," as his wife says, he blames himself for having misunderstood affairs.

Just to keep things lively there is a thread of love and sudden gain of wealth in the playlet.

Deserving of mention is May Donoghue, who carries out well the character of Lizzie, the cook, with a habit for leaving her employer suddenly, and Louis Foley as Tom Larkley, "physical culturist," who gives a whole edition of slang. In fact the entire cast, is well balanced.

Miss Irwin will repeat "Mrs. Black is Back" tonight and tomorrow night. Among those noticed present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mackinnon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. SIGNALLED LOVERS, HE SAYS

CASHIER OF KEY ROUTE GETS DIVORCE BECAUSE OF WIFE'S ACTIONS.

A divorce was granted yesterday to Frank L. Southwell, cashier for the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railway Company, from Katie Southwell, for extreme cruelty. Mr. and Mrs. Southwell were married on October 31, 1900, and have no children.

In the testimony given, Mr. Southwell stated that his wife did not care for housework and that she had an unmanageable temper. He also testified that when he returned home from work at night he found that there was no meal ready, and upbraided his wife about it.

The only reply that he would receive was that if he did not like the way she did he could get another woman. His wife always had plenty of money to run the house, but refused to get provisions. Many times on returning from his work he would have to prepare his own meal.

Southwell also stated in his complaint that during his absence his wife entertained other men, some of them being collectors on the Key Route trains and others saloon men.

When he spoke to his wife about her conduct she told him that she would do just as she pleased.

Southwell said that his wife had arranged a code of signals so that she could let her callers know when her husband was not at home, and that a light was left in the rear of the house so that they might make their escape should he happen to return while they were there.

U. OF C. REGENTS IN SESSION

MATTERS TRANSACTED BY THE BOARD AT YESTERDAY'S MEETING.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 13.—The regents of the State University held a brief session yesterday. President Wheeler announced the selection of Professor Frederick Wolle as instructor in the department of music. The selection was ratified by the board and the appointment formally made.

President Wheeler said that Professor Wolle was now on his way to California and would enter upon his duties immediately upon his arrival. President Wheeler said also that Wolle is peculiarly effective in teaching by chorus methods and that he would form a large chorus of students at the university and use that as a sort of laboratory in his work.

Regent Budd objected to the paying of Professor Wolle's salary for the two months of the term he had missed, and also the $300 set aside for his moving expenses, but the regent's motion to amend the recommendation was not seconded.

President Wheeler stated that the non-completion of California Hall has caused great inconvenience, owing to the large number of classes for which room had to be found. He said he thought it would be completed in October. Provision was made for purchasing furniture for it.

The president reported that the next class at the medical department would probably be less by twenty-five than the preceding one, as the entrance qualification had been raised. Nearly every freshman in the new class would be a college graduate, he said.

Regent Budd asked that consideration of the report of the committee on agricultural experiment stations be continued until the next meeting, saying that the committee opposed the abolishing of the station in Tulare county, and that there would probably be a long discussion of the matter. At his request the secretary was instructed to have a copy of the committee's report and a copy of Professor Wickson's letter recommending the abolishing of the station prepared for each member of the board of regents.

Among the appointments read by President Wheeler were those of F. B. Laney, Assistant State Geologist of North Carolina, to be instructor in geology and mineralogy; Dr. J. C. Blair, to be assistant in anatomy at $700; Dr. William Popper of Columbia College, to succeed Max L. Margolis as instructor of Semitic languages; Sturla Enarson, a University of Michigan graduate, to be assistant in astronomy at $600 a year.

It was announced also that John W. Geary, captain of the second football eleven last year, and James Force, football captain this year, had been appointed at a salary of $200 each for the term to assist in military instruction.

Miss Anna W. Rosenmiller of the Pittsburg Carnegie Library was appointed mail and binding clerk in the library, in place of F. T. Blanchard, at a salary of $720. E. A. Hugill was appointed superintendent of buildings and grounds at $1200, in place of Arthur L. Bolton.

A vote of thanks was tendered W. H. Mills for bound volumes of the Sacramento Record-Union from July, 1867, to March, 1902.

The rule regarding military instruction was changed to conform to the United States regulations, and three hours a week instead of two will be devoted to such instruction, two-thirds of that time to be given to practical drill.

STRONGER THAN MEAT.
A Judge's Opinion of Grape-Nuts.
A gentleman who has acquired a judicial turn of mind from experience on the bench out in the Sunflower State, writes a carefully considered opinion as to the value of Grape-Nuts as food. He says:

"For the past five years Grape-Nuts has been a prominent feature in our bill of fare."

"The crisp food with the delicious nutty flavor has become an indispensable necessity in my family's everyday life."

It has proved to be most healthful and beneficial, and has enabled us to practically abolish pastry and pie from our table, for the children prefer Grape-Nuts and do not crave rich and unwholesome food.

"Grape-Nuts keeps us all in perfect physical condition—as a preventative of disease it is beyond value. I have been particularly impressed by the beneficial effects of Grape-Nuts when used by ladies who are troubled with face blemishes, skin eruptions, etc. It clears up the complexion wonderfully."

"As to its nutritive qualities, my experience is that one small dish of Grape-Nuts is superior to a pound of meat for breakfast, which is an important consideration for anyone. It satisfies the appetite and strengthens its power of resisting fatigue, while it involves none of the disagreeable consequences that sometimes follow a meat breakfast." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Michigan.

"ALABAMA PROVES PLEASING TO MANY"
"ALABAMA," one of the most popular American plays, was again presented at the Liberty Playhouse last night before a large and appreciative audience. The same high standard of stage management, scenery and costuming that has characterized the previous productions given at this playhouse is maintained.

James Neill portrays the role of Jodel Moberly, the impulsive, genial Southerner of the old school. Mr. Neill has never been seen in a role better fitted to his talents, and gives one of his best characteristics ever seen here. Robert Wayne took the part of "Captain Davenport," the Southerner who had been away from home and his family, and who returned with much of the Northern business vigor.

L. C. Stockwell was at his best in the role of Squire Tucker. Reginald Travers as Colonel Preston was good, bringing out everything that was in that character. Edythe Neill Chapman scored an other success in the role of Mrs. Page. Frances Sleson as "Carey," and Mina Gleason as Widow Stockton gave clever impersonations of their respective characters. The rest of the Liberty players are all good in their respective parts.

This play will be the attraction at the Liberty for the entire week, with the

WITTE THANKS PEOPLE OF UNITED STATES

Memory of His Visit Will Live Long in His Heart.

OSTER BAY, Sept. 13.—Baron Rosen, the Russian Ambassador, and associate of M. Witte as Russian peace plenipotentiary at the Portsmouth conference was a guest today of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt at luncheon. The engagement was made on the request of Ambassador Rosen, but the nature of his mission here was not disclosed.

Ambassador Rosen arrived here from New York on the 12:20 p. m. train and was conveyed to Sagamore Hill in one of the President's carriages which was in waiting for him. He held his luncheon with the President but declined to give the specific object of his visit.

"How soon will the imperial ordinance abolishing Russian retaliatory treaties on American machinery go into effect?" the Ambassador was asked.

"Just as soon as passed," he replied. "The precise date I do not know."

On the eve of his departure M. Witte, the Russian peace envoy, extended to President Roosevelt by telegram, his heartfelt thanks for the "cordial welcome" and the "uniform courtesy" given to the envoys by the American Government and people. The text of M. Witte's message to the President follows:

"New York, Sept. 12, 1905. President Roosevelt:—Before leaving the hospitable soil of the United States, I beg in my own name, and in behalf of my fellow workers, to offer my heartfelt thanks to you, Mr. President, to the Government of the United States, and the whole American nation, for the cordial welcome given to us on our arrival, and the uniform courtesy shown us during our sojourn here, the memory of which will live in our hearts forever."

"Signed, WITTE."

Abraham Lincoln's Birthplace.

There is a movement on foot in Kentucky to make a State park of the farm on which Abraham Lincoln was born. The property was recently purchased by Robert J. Collier of Collier's Weekly, who offers to turn it over at cost to the State or Federal government or any society which may be organized to preserve it for the public. The Courier-Journal, Times and other leading journals of Louisville warmly second the project, saying it is the duty of Kentucky to preserve this spot as a shrine of pilgrimage. The Courier-Journal says it is holy ground, and urges the Legislature to make the necessary appropriations to purchase the property and provide for its maintenance.

It is to be hoped the suggestion will be carried out. Abraham Lincoln was the greatest of all of Kentucky's sons. He is the most illustrious of Americans save Washington, and he has a peculiar claim to the reverence of Kentuckians. Lincoln was Southern by blood, birth, sympathy and temperament, but he abhorred slavery with all the force of his moral nature for its iniquity and he hated it bitterly as the descendant of the poor white to whom the plantation and slave system closed the door of opportunity and hope. His penetrating mind saw in it an economic evil of vast and increasing proportions, a political menace and a growing source of national discord. Nevertheless he understood the people of the South as no other President elected from a Northern State ever did, and if he did not share their prejudices he sympathized with their position and the misfortunes brought on them by the Civil War. He longed to bind up the wounds of the country and reunite his countrymen. He drew his statesmanship from the free soil of Illinois, but the inherited sympathies of the land of his birth and the people from whom he sprang clung to him all his life. It was with a sense of physical pain that he watched the South waste its valor and treasure in a hopeless struggle against the national idea and the enlightenment of the age.

As Colonel Watterson says, he was the South's best friend when friends were most in need. He belongs to Kentucky which was a battleground of the Civil War and the inhabitants of which were torn by the bloody dissension that divided the nation. Kentucky should care for the farm on which he first saw the light. It is a rocky tract of hill land in a poor neighborhood, but it is rich in memories and suggestions. It is an object lesson for future generations. It tells the story of a boy born in extreme poverty of illiterate parents who rose to be the grandest figure of his time; who learned to read from the Bible by the light of a pine-knot fire in a frontier cabin and struggled up from the position of a common laborer to be a great lawyer, a captivating orator and the leader of a free people in the greatest crisis of their national history, who passed his youth amid the rudest surroundings and the uncouth associations of pioneer life, yet whose heart held all the tenderness of a woman and who came to understand with the presence of native genius the thoughts, feelings, prejudices and aspirations of men bred under radically different conditions; who gazed with equal readiness into the minds of the Puritan fanatic of New England and the cavalier planter of the South.

In all her brilliant galaxy of statesmen, orators and warriors Kentucky has none to compare with this man, who never had a pair of shoes till he was eighteen years old and went to school all told less than a year. Men of our day cannot appreciate the difference between the start Lincoln had and the start the other leaders of his time were given, much less appreciate the significance of his life and achievements, till they stand on the stony farm where he was born and see for themselves the rude surroundings in which his infancy was passed.

A colored club in Louisville, Kentucky, has endorsed the entire Democratic municipal ticket. This organization is styled the "Help-one-another Political Colored Club." There may be nothing in a name, but in this instance it is suggestive to say the least.

Francis B. Loomis has been vindicated again. This is indeed gratifying, but it is not possible to get a man for the diplomatic service who does not require a vindication every few weeks?

The meat packers are telling the stock breeders that railroad freight rates depress the price of cattle and elevate the price of dressed meats. What about the rebates? At any rate the increase in freight rates does not account for the decrease in the price of neat stock and the advance in the price of dressed meats during the last three years. However, the packers are forced to give some sort of an excuse for the curious anomaly of a fall in the price of the raw material coincident with an advance in the price of the finished product.

The San Francisco Republican League has decided to nominate John S. Partridge for Mayor. It is to be hoped that he will not be found in Abe Ruef's bag at the close of election day.

Had the explosion on Admiral Togo's flagship occurred while hostilities were still in progress it would promptly have been assumed that a Russian spy had worked the destruction. Had the flagship of the Russian admiral been destroyed in the same way Japanese spies or Nihilists would have been credited with the disaster. As it is, the explosion is clearly an accident. The modern warship carries within her the seeds of self-destruction. She is a vast mass of delicate mechanism and is laden with high power explosives. The utmost vigilance in the most efficient navies of the world has been unable to prevent numerous accidents. The British navy has suffered many frightful disasters, so has that of France and Germany. The blowing up of the Bennington at San Diego is still fresh in public memory. While the loss of the Mikasa is a melancholy event, it is fortunate for Japan that it did not occur while Togo was waiting to intercept the Russian fleet in its dash for Vladivostok. Had Togo and his ship gone down at that critical moment the current of history might have been changed and the treaty of Portsmouth eliminated from its pages.

The Chronicle is trying to revive the tentative discussion relative to the mooted consolidation of the cities on the eastern shore with San Francisco. The subject is not a live one. The communities on this side of the bay are not ready to unite with one another, and in none of them is there any appreciable sentiment in favor of uniting with San Francisco. Municipal consolidation on the Alameda shore is still far off while consolidation with San Francisco is so exceedingly remote as to be a mere speculation at present. The situation here is not analogous to the situation in New York, the conditions being so radically different that there is small instruction in citing consolidation there as an example to be followed here. It was argued that consolidation of Brooklyn and other municipalities with New York City would break the power of Tammany. It has extended the dominion of Tammany over the other municipalities. The expected decrease in taxes has not followed; on the contrary, the tax rate and the assessment have both gone up. Still, consolidation has facilitated a solution of the rapid transit problem, but there is no rapid transit problem for the eastern shore cities to solve.

Bigoted Sabbatarianism in Maryland.

Maryland was the first European colony on the American continent to proclaim religious toleration, but it seems that the Maryland of today has still something to learn in regard to the free exercise of religious belief. Recently twenty-two men and nine women were arrested in Baltimore for violating the Sabbath. They were working in a tailoring establishment where they could not be seen from the street and were in nowise disturbing anyone. The proprietors of the place informed the police judge that they and their employees were Jews and were taught by their religion that it was sinful to work on Saturday, the Jewish Sabbath. As they could not afford to remain idle two days in the week, they rested and attended to their religious devotions on Saturday, but worked on Sunday. However, they shut themselves in and took every precaution not to offend the sensibilities of their Christian neighbors. Nevertheless they were fined $5 each and warned that the laws of Maryland forbade working on Sunday and that a second infraction of them would be more severely punished.

The same day these people were arrested many thousands of people in Baltimore attended a baseball game. The players were hired for the occasion and were working for gain just as much as were those poor Jewish tailors. Newspapers were printed and sold on the streets on the same Sunday. The street cars ran, and men worked in the hotels and around the railroad yards. Surely their offense—if any were committed—was as great as that of the little band of Hebrews quietly sewing in the upper story of a building. The latter were observing the spirit of the law forbidding Sabbath desecration, and no one can say their example was harmful to the community in any way. They abstained from labor and worshiped God on the day appointed by their religion, and should not have been molested. The law which requires them to outwardly conform to the teachings of another faith under penalty of losing a day's labor each week or desecrating their own Sabbath is a harsh and unfeeling one. Maryland should either amend her laws or administer them in a more enlightened spirit.

THE GIRL WHO SMILES.

The wind was east and the chimney smoked,
And the old brown house seemed dreary,
For nobody smiled and nobody joked,
The young folks grumbled, the old folks croaked—
They had come home chilled and weary.

Then opened the door and a girl came in.
Oh, she was homely—very!
Her nose was pug and her cheek was thin;
There wasn't a dimple from brow to chin;
But her smile was bright and cheery.

She spoke not a word of the cold and damp,
Nor yet of the gloom about her;
But she mended the fire and lighted the lamp,
And she put on the place a different stamp
From that it had without her.

Her dress (which was something in sober brown
And with dampness nearly dripping)
She changed for a bright, warm, crimson gown,
And she looked so gay when she came down
They forgot the air was nipping.

They forgot that the house was a dull old place
And smoky from base to rafter,
And gloom departed from every face
As they felt the charm of her mirthful grace
And the cheer of her happy laughter.

Oh, give me the girl who will smile and sing
And make all glad together!
To be plain or fair is a lesser thing,
But a kind, unselfish heart can bring
Good cheer in the darkest weather.
—Mary A. Gillette, in Youth's Companion.

CIRCUMSTANCES AND CASES

Up spake the College President, "Young men, be pure in trade,
Avoid the fostering Finance and the money that is made
Through dubious, insidious
Deceits, quite insidious
To purer education and the lofty tablets cut—"
He might have followed further this inspiring discourse, but

Along came a yeller
Package marked, "From Rockefeller."
Just a million-dollar token
Of a wish as yet unspoken
That the Fellowship of Scholarship may ever be unbroken."

Up spake the Reverend Doctor to his snugly-pastured flock,
"Cast not your bread, my brethren, on the marsh of watered stock
Where fortunes meretricious
Are amassed through means suspicious;
For howsoever crafty is the robber by whose skill—"
And thus the pious morals were contributed, until

Along came a bonny
Parcel marked, "From Uncle Johnnie,
Being cash for the conversion
Of the Hindoo and the Persian—"
So on the hand of charity let no one cast aspersion."

Up spake the Lawyer to his son, "Avoid the fell disease
Of arguing for Tainted Trusts and dishonest fees,
For ten to one, a Trust is
But a legalized injustice,
A home-destroying octopus, devised by business men—"
He might have put conviction in his pleadings, but just then

Came a letter smooth and gallant,
Saying, "Dear Sir: For your talent
Please accept a situation
With our Coal-Oil corporation,
With one hundred thousand dollars as a yearly stipulation."

In the realm of handwork on dollies and centerpieces Irish embroidery is the most serviceable and best able to withstand hard usage. This is simply a fine satin stitch which stands out very decidedly from the linen. Medium-sized round dollies, with center-piece to match, have delicately scalloped and buttonholed edges, inside of which are narrow borders of marguerites, shamrocks or similar minute designs.

Though coathangers are not new, a dainty affair intended as a gift to a baby was a miniature holder, first padded with perfumed cotton, then with shirred white satin. The hook was covered with twisted ribbon and at its base a bow of broad ribbon was tied, one end decorated with a spray of forget-me-nots, and across the other "Baby" was worked in blue silk. Though a trifle, it was a gift that will bring much pleasure to the mother, as showing thoughtful kindness.

Trellis work is one of the newest ideas in decorative needlework, and it amply repays any trouble and ingenuity spent on it. The name suggests ruralism, and trellis embroidery is most suitable for the embellishment of the country cottage, or a room in a town house where simple charm is aimed at. It can be used for the tops and bottoms of short linen curtains, cushion covers, table covers and bed squares, the size of the design varying to correspond with that of the article it decorates.

A most ingenious and convenient holder for the rolls of baby ribbon which are such necessary trifles in the wardrobe of the dainty woman has been devised, and is so simply formed that it may be attempted by the merest amateur in sewing. When complete it resembles a very large spool of cotton, and the starting point is to cut two rounds in cardboard one inch larger in diameter than the roll of baby ribbon. These are covered on both sides with anything convenient, though white linen outside and white china silk on the inside is a suggestion. Around one end may be embroidered "A Friend in Need," on the other the initials going diagonally. Holes are pierced in the center of the cardboard and the rolls of ribbon and the ends secured under rosettes sewn on the cardboard where the holes are in the cotton spool, the rolls in varied hue taking the place of the cotton. The hanger also starts from these points, and through a loop on one end of the spool a tiny pair of scissors is slipped, the other end holding a bodkin in a similar loop. It is exceedingly compact, no hunting for the right shade of ribbon or the implements either, but is a veritable "ever handy."

GIRL THIEF IS CAUGHT AFTER CHASE OVER ROOFS

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—After a chase over roofs in which nearly a thousand persons took part, Kate Derween, 17 years old, was arrested last night. She is said to be the only girl member of the "Cherry Hill gang," an aggregation of East Side freebooters figuring in the police records for years.

A young woman was walking through Clinton street late in the evening when a girl bumped against her and snatched a watch pinned to her bosom. The victim set up a cry and the thief was pursued by a big crowd of idlers. She ran several blocks into a house adjoining a police station, ascended to the roof and was captured there. The police say they found the missing watch in her possession.

NEGRO STEALS A KISS; SENTENCED TO TWO YEARS

BALTIMORE, Sept. 13.—John Fedderman, a negro waiter in a suburban hotel, was sentenced to two years in jail by a police magistrate yesterday for forcibly kissing Mary White, an Irish nurse maid.

The maid is employed by a guest at the hotel, and was giving the children supper when the negro came up behind, threw his arms about her and kissed her cheek. Miss White became hysterical. Another negro waiter had wagged that Fedderman would not kiss the young woman. The affair caused great indignation among the hotel guests.

WIFE LASHES RIVAL ON FIFTH AVENUE

NEW YORK, September 13.—A tall man of athletic build, age about forty years, arrayed in a well-fitting pepper-and-salt suit, escorted a pretty young woman in black, with large picture hat from the Hotel Martha Washington in Twenty-ninth street. Arm in arm they walked toward Fifth avenue, laughing and chatting and all unconscious of a little woman in a tailor-made suit of gray who was fast overtaking them.

At the corner of Fifth avenue the woman in gray placed a gloved hand on the arm of the younger woman and came face to face with the couple.

"Kitty," she said, without any display of excitement. "You know you are doing wrong to interfere between me and my husband. You are breaking up my home, and if you have no regard for me you should remember my children."

The woman in the picture hat pulled her arm away impatiently, tossed her head, and started to walk away with her escort, who had seemed to much surprised to utter a word.

"If you will not listen to me," said the woman in gray, "I'll take the law into my own hands," and as she spoke she drew a heavy dog whip from beneath her jacket.

Whisk, it went through the air, and descended upon the picture hat, knocking it away. The younger woman screamed and started to drag her escort across Fifth avenue. A crowd began to gather and watched the woman in gray as she hurried along behind the couple plying her whip at every step and never uttering a word.

As the trio neared Broadway the man started on a run for the Hotel Brestin, at Twenty-ninth street, and disappeared within the doors. His fair companion, deserted, fled for a Broadway car which had stopped at the corner, and made good her escape.

The little woman in gray tucked her whip back beneath her jacket, pushed her way through the admiring crowd and was greeted with cheers as she entered a cab with unruffled dignity and ordered the driver to get away quick.

HOW THIS MAN, A BIGAMIST, WINS MANY WOMEN

METHOD MADE KNOWN THROUGH HIS VICTIMS

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Dr. George Witzhoff, the man with the genius for marriage, shared Bluebeard Hoch's opinion that any woman could be subjugated with a little patient effort. A friend of Mrs. Anna Parkhill, now Mrs. Ernest Tinner, of Sayville, L. I., but once a wife of the polygamous dentist, tells how Witzhoff set his lined twigs. She says:

"When Witzhoff found an impressionable victim he used to take her face in his hands and gaze long and deeply into her eyes. The woman whom he married as Abram Weston used to say after these soul-gazings that she felt a close, oppressive feeling in her breast as though Witzhoff had a hypnotic power over her.

"But for those who like their wooing more intellectual he played the old sympathy game to a nicety. He made each woman think that listening to her particular troubles had become his chief vocation in life. If it was merely worry, he offered sympathetic advice. If the woman needed money, he talked optimistically of the inheritance which he was expecting from his mother's estate in Switzerland.

"When he had convinced Mrs. Parkhill that all his solicitude was for her and that no detail of her affairs was too trivial to merit his helpful consideration he rehearsed his own troubles. He had just buried his poor, dear mother in Switzerland, he told her, and was nearly penniless as a result of the expense. When he said that he expected to have to settle down in some lone hall bedroom as a forlorn bachelor, until his inheritance arrived, the tender Parkhill heart, which itself knew the sorrows of widowhood, was melted with pity.

"Witzhoff made a specialty of impressive oaths, sworn if possible over the grave of a grandmother, in which he declared fervently that he had never before been married and had never loved another.

"He deluged Mrs. Parkhill with flowers, which he probably never paid for, as he was always bankrupt. He wrote to her every day or sent her a telegram, in which he pretended to tell her how he was getting along and how impossible it was for him to be happy away from her. Once he took her to New Haven and took her for a pleasant drive all about the town.

"He made a great ad always about the dental parlors which he established in various cities, and on one occasion he brought one of his prospective wives to New York and showed her a Fourteenth street saloon which he said he owned.

"Witzhoff met Mrs. Parkhill, who was thirty-six years old at the time, in a dental establishment in Forty-second street, in August, 1903. He pretended to be attracted to her and asked to be allowed to call. Mrs. Parkhill was running a boarding-house then at No. 116 Schermerhorn street, Brooklyn, and wanted a new partner in life. She had no real troubles, but Witzhoff conjured up some for her and then talked them over sympathetically with her. He was always kind to Mrs. Parkhill's child, affectionate to Mrs. Parkhill and sentimental when occasion required. He kissed her when he came and went, as well as presumably between times, and he carried out this part so well that the women whom he victimized ought to have known that he was no novice. By this route it took him only six weeks to reach the wedding day with Mrs. Parkhill."

HERE'S ANOTHER.

In a Harlem flat there has been discovered evidence that may lead to the detection of Dr. George A. Witzhoff, the bigamist, whose long success in keeping out of the way is astonishing a score of detectives who for the last three weeks have been seeking him.

Word was received yesterday by Attorney Benjamin Franklin of No. 145 Nassau street, through a young woman living in upper Harlem, that a man who looked much like the published pictures of Dr. Witzhoff had been calling on a pretty girl, the daughter of a prominent Harlem man.

"This man is as dark as descriptions of Dr. Witzhoff say he is," added Franklin's informant. "He weighs the same and he further has his dark, curling beard trimmed in Henry IV. style, as it is known Witzhoff sometimes trimmed his beard, for purposes of disguise. He also has the dark hypnotic eyes attributed to the bigamist, and in many other ways resembles him."

Accordingly, Lawyer Franklin visited the house in Harlem where the mysterious man who may be Witzhoff is known to have been seen.

The family living at the house were surprised to find that there was a suspicion against their guest. He was known under a name that in no way has been identified with Dr. Witzhoff's numerous aliases.

"My daughter met the suspected man at Long Branch a few months ago,"

THIS MAN LIVES WITH HIS WIVES, ON ALTERNATE DAYS

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Confronted by his two wives, Stanley Sobleszk was held to the Criminal Court yesterday by Justice Severson on a charge of bigamy. He admitted that he had married each of the women in church, and had been living with them on alternate days for the last year.

Mrs. Sobleszk the first was married to him eleven years ago. She is the mother of five children, four of whom are girls. The second wife was married to Sobleszk a year ago.

Neither of the wives seems to harbor any ill feeling against her husband

Requests for sympathy in return.

Frequent calls.

Talk of coming inheritances.

Kindness to the victim's children.

Gifts of flowers.

Plentiful kisses.

Soul-gazing via the eyes.

said the head of the house. "The introduction was made through mutual friends who had met the man on a European steamer earlier in the summer. He is said to be of foreign birth, the son of a man well known before his death, and has inherited a fortune."

While there was said not to be any engagement to marry between the caller and the girl, it was acknowledged that he was a constant visitor and that there was so far much friendship between the parties to the little romance.

"When I asked to see a photograph of this mysterious foreigner," added Lawyer Franklin, "I found that while the family had one they would not let me see it. They asked me to let them see my picture of Witzhoff, but they would not let me see their picture of the caller."

Detective Sergeant T. J. O'Connell, attached to the District Attorney's staff, who holds now a bench warrant for the arrest of Witzhoff under two indictments against him, found in 1903 for bigamy in this county, tells how he tried to catch the gallant dentist at the time the warrant was first given to him to serve.

"I chased him from Massachusetts to Minnesota," said the detective. "We first located him in his old address in this city over on the east side. But he had gone, of course, when this was accomplished. Then we saw a letter addressed to him, mailed at St. Paul, Minn. It was addressed under the name Muller, which name he married Miss Etta Randall of Boston, under. I then found from Mrs. Parkhill that Witzhoff had told her that she was to take all his letters addressed to Muller when he, the dentist, was absent and remail them to No. 786 West Lafayette street, Boston. I hustled over there and found this to be the address where the fellow was living with Etta Randall. The mail had been changed by a forwarding address at the postoffice to the general delivery in Baltimore.

"I stayed in Baltimore a week, but not a trace could I get of the bigamist. Then I found a clue that led to Chicago. Over to that city I went, to find that while I was at work Witzhoff had married a Chicago girl, robbed her by borrowing all her savings of about $1,000, and had skipped to Cincinnati. When I got to the latter town I located the man, but he got wise, and all I had was the room in which he lived and his trunk for my pains.

"One day an expressman came for the trunk. I traced it to St. Louis, then to a small Illinois town, and then to Kansas City. I felt sure if I struck to the trunk it would all end in getting to Witzhoff, but after the trunk got to Kansas City it seemed to drop out of the world. I lost it somewhere and that was the end of my search. Clues were followed for weeks, but they never ended anywhere."

HONEY MOON IN ELEVATOR CARRIAGE

NEW YORK, September 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fox are making their honeymoon trip in an elevator car in the postoffice building. They are every bit as happy as if a special car was speeding them to Newport.

Fox is an elevator man in Uncle Sam's employ. He could not get a vacation, and he did not wish to put off his marriage any longer. Neither did his sweetheart, Miss Sarah A. Dougherty, recently a school teacher at New Rochelle and Patchogue, L. I., so they were married last week.

The new Mrs. Fox is an extremely pretty young woman with big brown eyes and rosy cheeks. She sits demurely in a corner of the elevator at Mail street and Park row and tries to look as if she was going to or coming from some very solemn business at one of the Federal Courts. But the honeymoon light is dancing in her fine eyes.

Some of Fox's friends, officials and employees, have learned that it was his bride who, to him, makes the dingy car seem much more brilliant and beautiful than the finest suite in the most expensive hotel or the best cabin on the fastest liner.

They have insisted that Fox introduce them to her, that they might tell her how lucky he is. Nine out of ten have said something about "sharing not the woman," but there would seem the ups and downs of life, the joys and ills of existence," and Mrs. Fox has laughed charmingly everything, just as if she had not heard the alleged criticism before. Yesterday Fox's friends made up a purse and bought his wife a wedding present.

DICTATES OF FASHION.

A smart every-day waist, which is of white wool albatross, continues through a red and white plaid braid, a sort of continuity of costume, for the skirt is entirely of red and white plaid wool. A highly ornamental yoke effect is outlined by the braid, the same design and plain bands appearing upon the sleeves.

Parisians cling to the fine French voile. Those of Rob Roy plaids in cream and Alice blue and magenta and white are charming. The chemisette and long sleevelets in white, with high soft belts of crushed leather in ivory white are smart accessories to such frocks. This tone of white prevails on most of the gowns.

The bishop sleeve is seen on some of the new wraps and in fact a loose flowing effect of sleeve and mantle characteristics of the newest model, combined seems to be one of the newest model. In heavy silk it does look very much like a bishop's robe and is not ungraceful in cloth. It is certainly original and now that women are learning to wear these loose garments they do not seem so ungraceful as they did (the garments, have said something about "sharing not the woman," but there would seem

DECLARES HE DESERTED FIANCEE

PORTSTOWN, Pa., September 13.—Leaving behind a pretty young girl who expected to marry him on the 24th of this month, Andrew Caffrey, a young man who boarded at this place, has disappeared. A warrant is out for his arrest on the charge of stealing a gold watch and other valuables from the room of a fellow boarder.

Caffrey paid attention to Miss Elsie Umstead, the 18-year-old daughter of Newton Umstead, of Cedarville. The pair were engaged and the wedding date was set. Caffrey had rented a house in Portstown Landing and told his bride-to-be that he had bought $118 worth of furniture from a local dealer.

Caffrey seemed to be such a sincere lover and upright man that his presumed merits reconciled the bride's parents to such an early marriage.

At last the wheel has turned to the fashion of fancy buttons. Now is the hour to get out ancient treasures. Jeweled buttons will be much worn this fall and winter, amethysts, rubies, topazes and emeralds being generally employed. Many of these buttons are surrounded with rhinestones and with this frame effect they look very much like brooches. Among the new styles are miniature buttons decorated with portraits of famous court beauties of 18th years ago, and Dresden buttons which appear the Napoleonic wars.

THE CHANGE OF LIFE

INTELLIGENT WOMEN PREPARE

Dangers and Pain of This Critical Period
Avoided by the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that the most critical period in a woman's existence is the change of life, and that the anxiety felt by women at this time draws near is not without reason?

If her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy or congestion of any organ, it is at this time likely to become active and, with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden.

At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to begin their destructive work. Such warning symptoms as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, dizziness, headache, dreading of impending evil sounds in the ears, timidity, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the world's greatest remedy for women at this trying period, and may be relied upon to overcome all distressing symptoms and carry them safely through to a healthy and happy old age.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism, and builds up the weakened nervous system as no other medicine can.

Mrs. A. E. G. Hyland, of Chestertown, Md., in a letter to Mrs. Pinkham, says:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

I had been suffering with falling of the womb for years and was passing through the change of life. My womb was badly swollen. I had a good deal of soreness, dizzy spells, headaches, and was very nervous. I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all those distressing symptoms left me, and I have passed safely through the change of life a well woman.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. It is free and always helpful.

TRUSTEES HOLD A MEETING

LITTLE WORK DONE AND AN EARLY ADJOURNMENT IS TAKEN.

POINT RICHMOND, Sept. 13.—The Board of City Trustees held a short session Monday night, but transacted no business. There were present Trustees Crichton, Garrard, Clark and Curry; Kenny absent. Clerk Calhoun was also absent, being at home sick. Trustee Babcock was appointed clerk pro tem.

President Curry called the meeting to order and there being no business to come up for consideration, an adjournment was taken until Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, at which time it is expected the liquor license ordinance will come up for final consideration and passage.

BRIEFINGS.

WAS BALD SIX YEARS.

Three Months of the New Scientific Treatment Restored His Hair.

Baldness is caused by dandruff, which is caused by a germ. Kill the germ and it is almost certain that hair will grow again, if the follicle has not been totally destroyed. Nels Peterson of Lime Spur, Montana, says: "I had been bald six years, and had tried all kinds of 'cures,' but without any benefit whatever, until I tried Herpelcine. November 16, 1930, I began using Herpelcine, and in three months a fine growth of hair covered my head completely." Ask your druggist for Herpelcine. Everybody can have luxuriant, glossy hair, if Herpelcine is used thoroughly. Take no substitute. Sold by all druggists. NEW ABATTOIR OPENED AT THE STOCKYARDS

J. W. PHILLIPS.

Yesterday was a gala day in the history of the Grayson-Owen Company. The new abattoir of the company at the Stockyards was opened to the public and butchers and stock dealers from San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and interior towns availed themselves of the opportunity to inspect the new plant.

With the opening of the abattoir begins another era in the butchering business at the Stockyards, which is considered one of the finest locations in the world for that purpose. Situated on the shores of the bay, it has the advantage of the refreshing breezes from the Pacific Ocean and all the refuse from the slaughter houses and sewage matter is carried to the bay. In fact, the new abattoir has been constructed with a view to sanitation, and it is, without doubt, the most sanitary plant of its kind in the State.

The Grayson-Owen Company, under the name of Phillips & Chandler, began business in East Oakland in the early 70's. In 1916 the old plant was moved to the Stockyards and began business under the name of Grayson, Owen & Co. The firm then comprised J. W. Phillips, George W. Grayson and J. W. Owen. The business continued under that name until 1930, when it was incorporated as the Grayson-Owen Company, with the following officers: J. W. Phillips, president; Irving C. Lewis, vice-president; D. B. Lynch, secretary; J. C. Mitchell, treasurer, and Henry Wexphal, head salesman.

Until the present time the methods of slaughtering were crude as the firm had no refrigerating process, but, owing to the growing business and the demands of progress, it was decided last April to erect an abattoir in keeping with the times. Although it entailed an extra expense the company decided to adopt what is known as the "atmospheric method" of keeping its beef, sheep and hogs. This means that the carcasses are allowed to remain in a cool room until all the animal heat has left the body.

before it is placed in the refrigerators. This causes a shrinkage in weight, but it enables the firm to put a better product on the market and that was the result desired.

When the new abattoir was decided upon the services of J. T. Ludlow, a well known architect, were engaged and he has supervised the work of construction as well as drawing the plans of the buildings. The machinery was installed by the Vulcan Iron Works of San Francisco.

The new abattoir is 80x120 feet in size. Besides the corral and slaughtering rooms, it has a supply room, 12x40 feet; 2 cold storage rooms, 20x45 feet, and two chill rooms, 12x40 feet. The ceilings of these rooms are 22 feet high. The beaves are driven from the corral to the killing pen, where one blow from a sledge hammer kills them. They are then strung up and bled, their skins removed and they are dressed. The carcasses are then taken to the cooling room where they are allowed to remain until the animal heat has gone. Then they are chilled and afterward placed in cold storage.

Nothing is wasted and all the by-products are handled at the abattoir. The main floor, where it is converted into a fertilizer. The entrance to a separating house, where the fat is extracted. The hides go to the tanning house. The killing capacity of the abattoir is 150 beef, 350 hogs and 1000 sheep a day. The cold storage capacity is 400 cattle. The refrigerating machinery is driven by electricity and there are three dynamos for that purpose. All the hoisting and handling of the carcasses is done by machinery. The refrigerating is done by expansion of ammonia, which is forced through pipes overhead. The company has its own water plant, and two 10,000 gallon tanks are now being installed. Many stockmen visited the abattoir yesterday and were received by Mr. Phillips who is a pioneer in the business. Mr. Lewis, Mr. Lynch and Mr. Ludlow. They were delighted with the plant and praise was heard on every hand.

MISSING MAN IS LOCATED

Police Say They Have Motorman on Train That Was Wrecked.

NEW YORK, September 13.—The police of Staten Island arrested a man last night who they think is Paul Kelly, the missing motorman of the Ninth avenue elevated train which was wrecked Monday with a loss of 12 lives. While there was considerable doubt as to the prisoner's identity he was held temporarily. At first the man gave his name as Charles B. Branch and said he lived in this city. He was arrested on the board walk at South Beach for alleged intoxication and disorder while arguing with John Moore.

Moore, after his companion had been arrested, told the policeman that Branch was Kelly and that he (Moore) had been sent down to Kelly with money to enable him to get away. The prisoner when taken to the station is said to have admitted to the sergeant that he was Kelly. Beyond that he refused to talk. Reports were received last night that Switchman Cornelius Jackson had confessed he was primarily to blame for hurling part of the rapidly moving train from the structure. It was said he had made a statement to the effect that he was alone in the signal house when it became necessary for him to leave his post temporarily. He had just let a Ninth avenue train go by, and naturally assuming that the next train would be a Sixth avenue one, he set the switch for the Fifty-third street curve and took a hurried look up the tracks, decided that the moment was opportune. He was gone not more than a minute, but when he reappeared, Kelly's train was already taking

MANY COLLECT AT REVIVAL SERVICES

The last meeting of the series of evangelistic services conducted at the First Christian Church by the Rev. Charles H. Scoville of Chicago was held last night, which was a fitting close to what has been one of the most remarkable evangelistic campaigns ever conducted in this city, all things considered. Meetings were held during a period of time covering less than three weeks, and on account of no Monday night meetings, services were held on only seventeen days, and yet the total number of additions was one hundred and forty-three, of which number twenty-five took the step last night—the largest number on any one day of the meetings. In addition alone the meeting is considered unusual, but when it is considered that on last Sunday 113,600 were raised by subscription for the purpose of buying a lot on which to build a church, the unusual character of the meetings stands out all the more prominently.

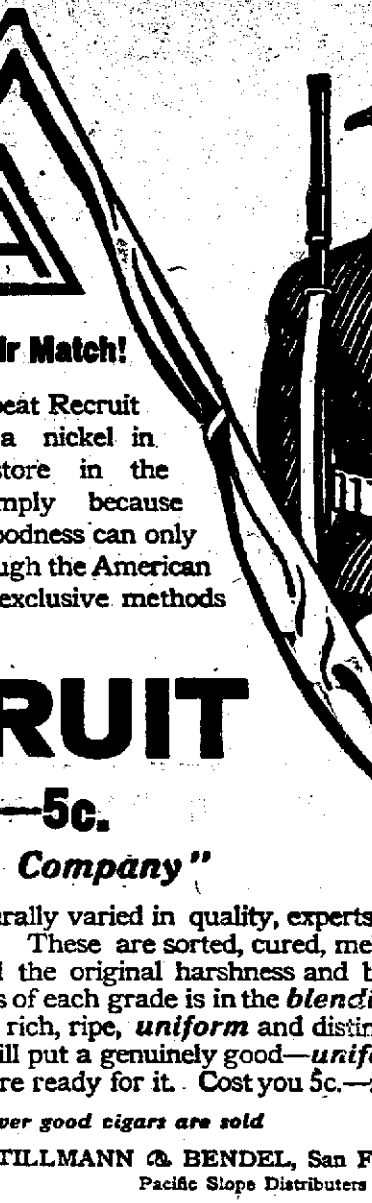

The revival was unusual in another respect. While Rev. Scoville has the ability to interest all classes, from the children in the audience to the old men, the majority of those uniting with the church were young people or men and women of mature years. In a number of instances whole families have united with the church. On the last night a father, mother, two daughters and a son, all of one family, took the step. The oldest person among the many reached is eighty-three years of age. The audience last night was large and the services did not close until the curve on which it was wrecked. Late last night an emphatic denial was issued on behalf of Jackson that he had made any such confession.

about 11 o'clock, so great was the interest. Among the prominent persons in the audience was the Rev. J. H. Vosburgh, pastor of the First Baptist Church; Rev. E. W. Darst, pastor of the First Christian Church of Berkeley, and Rev. J. V. Combs, pastor of the First Christian Church of San Jose. Many ministers of the various churches around the bay, as well as men prominent in the various professions, have been numbered among Rev. Scoville's hearers.

In summing up the meetings so much credit cannot be given to De Loss Smith, the singer, who has had charge of the music, and who has rendered solos at nearly every service. His solo work has attracted wide attention, while his ability to successfully direct the singing for evangelistic work is ranked in the first class.

A novel feature of the opening service last night was the privilege given to persons in the audience to call for their favorite songs used during the meetings. Only one verse of each song was sung and on many of them scores of persons called for the same number almost as one voice.

Rev. Scoville's subject last night was "The Opening of the Book," having reference to the judgment day. In speaking of the benefits to self and to the world resulting from sacrifice he cited the instances of Bunyan who never would have written "Pilgrim's Progress" had he not been imprisoned, and of "Paradise Lost," which would probably never have been given to the world had Milton not have been blind. The speaker said that not so many persons would be lost on account of some wrong done as on account of leaving undone the good they might have done. Idleness along the lines of uplifting the human race being among the greater of sins. "If the church fails at all," said he, "it will be because of the members of the church not going about doing good."

Rev. Scoville and De Loss Smith departed at 11 a. m. today for Kansas City, Mo., where they will dedicate a $120,000 church next Sunday and conduct an evangelistic campaign. Many were at the Sixteenth street depot to give them a parting word.

Owing to a large number of persons to be baptized, Rev. Thomas A. Boyer, pastor of the First Christian Church, will conduct a service tonight, to which all are invited. On Friday night of this week there will be a reception to the new members, which is expected to be a great meeting.

NEWS OF THE DAY FROM THE SUBURBS

SCHOOL BOARD RELAXES ITS RULING GIVES RECEPTION FOR CORNELL MAN

Tuition Tax Cases Hereafter to be Considered Individually—Other Business Done.

La Solano Club House, Scene of Affair, at Which Dagmar White Presides.

BERKELEY, Sept. 13.—Partial victory was won last night by those who have fought for a revocation of the Board of Education's order requiring a tuition tax from children of non-resident fathers to Berkeley, when the Board decided that each case of this sort should be considered individually, instead of an arbitrary ruling for all.

The tax is about $50 a year for tuition in the High School for such pupils as have non-resident parents, or parents who may live here but have voting places elsewhere. The rule has been opposed by many of the prominent interests of Berkeley, because it retards the incoming of people who desire to have their children live here and enjoy the educational advantages, even though the father may retain his voting privileges elsewhere.

The Board last night elected Miss Lucille Bailey teacher of the Commercial School.

It was decided to have the mid-term vacation the second week in October for all schools except the Le Conte and Lincoln, which will have to make up time lost when additions to these schools were being built.

A resolution was adopted calling for plans for a 15-room brick school building in the square bounded by Grove, Bancroft, McKinley and Durant, to cost $30,000, as provided in the bond issue; also, for a school building of 22 rooms on Russ, Piedmont and Garber streets, to cost $30,000.

TO CURB AFFAIRS

Students' Activities Will be Cut Down.

BERKELEY, September 13.—The A. S. U. C. executive committee last evening decided that the list of college functions for the year would soon be closed, and events not on the schedule would not be allowed to take place.

The offer of R. A. Roosa, '04, to donate a challenge punting cup for football players was accepted and a vote of thanks tendered the donor.

At the first meeting of the committee held several weeks ago it was decided to give notice hereafter the committee would exercise a closer watch on the number of social functions given during the year. Last night the members took up the matter again and decided that all college organizations which were planning for the coming year and had not notified the committee of their intention, must do so before Tuesday, September 18th. On that date the list of events will be closed and no college function will be allowed that does not appear in the schedule.

President Wheeler submitted the following letter to the committee:

San Francisco, Aug. 22, 1905.

Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Esq., President University of California—Dear Sir: It is my desire to give a challenge punting cup to the football men of the University of California, who are eligible for the Varsity. The idea is to promote that part of the football game which has in previous years rather come from natural ability than practice, and to further stimulate clean, active athletic competition, of which I have always been so much in favor.

If this meets with your approval, I shall be glad to discuss the matter further with you or members of your committee.

With best wishes for a prosperous college year, believe me to be,

Respectfully yours,

R. A. ROOSA, '04.

The letter was read and a request was sent to President Wheeler to accept it.

The following three athletes were appointed delegates to the Pacific Athletic Association: James A. Force, '08, Robert A. Causley, '06, and Olie Snedgum, '06.

Sate receipts from the Berkeley High School Freshman game were announced to be $245.50.

IN A MINOR KEY.

HIS RASH VOW.

The author of the "funny" letters had been besought by his most intimate friend to disclose his identity.

"Well," he said, "when Mayor Dumps gives out the 'duhny' and 'duhny'—alas!—I realized that this bound him to perpetual silence."

DREW THE LINE AT THAT.

Young Mr. Rolfe, who had married the beautiful actress, Fochoutas, was listening to the "shivers" of the neighborhood boys were giving them.

AWKWARD BLUNDER.

"Where do you want this load of ashes?" asked the man, handing him a bill for $1.25.

"Where do I want it?" said Mr. Ferguson. "Why, I just paid a fellow $2 for taking a load of ashes away—and upon my soul, these are the same ashes."

"Ain't you havin' a cement walk built?"

"Not at all."

"I see how it is," said the man. "The boss had to change drivers a little while ago and I've mistaken and brought your ashes to the wrong house."

As this was a case in which it was useless to swear at the driver, Mr. Ferguson went into his car and proceeded to kick himself—but there was small satisfaction even in that.

BLAMES THE SUBWAYS.

CHICAGO, September 13.—The subways of the Illinois Central Tunnel Company are found to be the cause of the settling of the streets and of several large buildings in the downtown districts.

This conclusion is set forth by the city's special engineering committee in a supplemental report made yesterday. The engineers cite four instances of settlements directly traceable to the undermining of the streets by the tunnel company, and declare that it is impossible to prevent a settlement of the ground and foundations of the large structures even with improved and safer methods.

NEW YORK, September 13.—Compositors in six job printing offices at Newark, N. The boss-owners later declared that their shops would be thrown open to non-unionists if the men did not quickly return to work.

LITERARY PROGRAM

Rhetorical Society Meets at Fruitvale.

FRUITVALE, September 13.—An interesting literary program was rendered yesterday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Rockefeller Rhetorical Society. The feature of the event was the declamation of Miss Rhoda Mitchell. Miss Nina Nunn read the society's weekly paper, "The Puddingstone." Other meritorious numbers on the program were Miss Maude Tinyman's review and the essay by Victor Kays. President Creed Gawthrop delivered an oration.

It was announced that next Tuesday there will be a debate with Neely Jose and R. Whitaker as leaders with Miss Rhoda Mitchell and Miss Maude Williams as followers. The question for discussion will be decided upon by the debaters. Miss Inez File, a new member, will edit next Tuesday's "Puddingstone."

Yesterday afternoon one new member was admitted, Edward McKillup, late of McMinnville, Oregon. He is a college student and has made a record for excellence in oratory, having won a medal in a State contest recently.

The society has decided to add athletics to the number of its activities. President Gawthrop was chosen yesterday as a committee of one to arrange an inter-society athletic meet at the near future. Professor Earl Linley of California College has announced that he will give a silver cup as a trophy to the winning organization, the competition to be between the Rockefeller and Lankershim Societies.

Resolutions of gratitude to the donor will be passed next week.

A committee composed of Edward McKillup, Miss Rhoda Mitchell and R. Whitaker was appointed to meet with representatives of the Lankershim Society to perfect arrangements for the annual literary contest for the alumni club. This is to take place on November 3 at Mary Stuart Hall in Highland Park. The competition this year will be in oratory, three members of each society to represent.

Rockefellers held the medal for two years and the Lankershim have had it one. Both sides are determined to win the contest and are actively preparing for the try-outs.

STRIKE IS ENDED.

SEATTLE, September 13.—After a struggle extending over a period of almost five months, the strike and boycott inaugurated by the Brewers' Union against the Western Washington Breweries is at an end. The terms of settlement were agreed upon at a conference yesterday between Secretary Kempster of the International Brewers' Union, a committee from the striking brewers and the representatives of the boycotted breweries, of which E. The terms of the settlement are in substance that the men return to work as fast as the proprietors are able to make vacancies at the same scale of wages which was in effect prior to the walk-out on May 1st, last, and recognition of the union.

MELLIN'S FOOD

For the Baby

"I give him his Mellin's Food and he sleeps 'til morning." How many mothers can say this of their babies? If your baby does not sleep well it may be that he is not properly fed. A poorly nourished baby is a poor sleeper. Mellin's Food babies are good sleepers. Our book "The Care and Feeding of Infants," sent free of charge.

Mellin's Food is the ONLY INFANT FOOD which received the Grand Prize, the highest award of the International Sanitary Exhibition, St. Louis, 1904. Bigger than a gold medal.

WHAT IT WILL COST TO RUN ALAMEDA

Estimates for the Coming Year Will be Presented to the City Fathers.

ALAMEDA, September 13.—The City Fathers are now being informed by the receipt of estimates from the heads of the various municipal departments, what it costs to run the city. The estimates are required in deciding upon the tax levy for the coming year, as the tax rate must be fixed on the first Monday in October.

For the Electric Light Department, $23,044 is asked for the estimate making provision for an increase in the service. The Board of Health asks for an increase in its appropriation. In the past three years there has been a deficit. The amount called for is $4,158.08.

Fire Chief Frederick K. Krauth Jr. in his report declares that $22,804 is required to conduct the fire department during the year, and he strongly recommends that an additional sum of $12,800 be set aside for the purchase of a new steam fire engine, to augment the one in use, and for a new combined hose wagon and chemical engine, besides new hose for a number of the companies.

The estimate to cover the expenses of the Police Department is given by Chief of Police John Conrad as $121,000. The City Clerk needs $3,750, and Oswald Lubbock, City Treasurer and ex-officio Tax Collector, will require $2,714.50 for his department.

For the grammar and primary schools the Board of Education will require $19,902.80 from the city funds, and the State and County appropriation being approximately $72,000. To carry on the work of the High School $21,000 will be necessary, but as $4,000 is expected from State funds the deficit to be made up by this city will be about $17,000.80. The expenses of the Alameda Free Public Library for the year are figured at a total of $9,375.

MADE FALSE STATEMENTS.

ALAMEDA, September 13.—Florence Miller, a young girl of about 15 years employed as a domestic by Mrs. John Tingman, and who disappeared from her home Sunday and was located Monday morning by Detective George H. Brown, created a sensation by declaring that in her absence from home she was at the Alameda Boating Club. Members of the Club assisted the police in running down the affair, and after a well known member of the club had been detained for a time at the city prison last night, a serious accusation brought by the girl, Florence, admitted that her previous stories were false, and that she had been in a house on Union street Sunday night and at the boating club's headquarters.

The young man who had been detained, proved a complete alibi, was exonerated and released. The girl, however, admitted that she had been dictating in jail for the purpose of other occasions, and she is declared to be a champion prevaricator by the police.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

ALAMEDA, September 13.—Routine matters were considered at the regular session of the Board of Health. It was reported that Doctors J. Emmet Clark and W. A. Brooks, with Sanitary Inspector Eugene Mallott, had made an investigation of the Chinese and Japanese quarters in the vicinity of Park Street and Railroad Avenue. In many cases the sanitation of the buildings was found to be fairly good. Property owners have been warned where necessary, to make repairs. A Chinese laundry on Blanding Avenue near Park street was found to be in bad order. Difficulty was encountered in ascertaining the owner of the property, which has changed hands several times.

Dr. L. W. Stidham, City Health Officer, reported 17 deaths occurring in August. The annual death rate per 1000 on an estimated population of 20,000 being 10.92. Four cases had been treated at the city Receiving Hospital. During the month there were twenty deaths.

The following report was submitted by E. C. Mallott, Sanitary Inspector: Premises inspected, 52; re-inspections made, 6; nuisances abated, 6; houses fumigated, 1; inspections of plumbing in new houses, 21; inspection of plumbing in old houses, 7; final inspections of new houses, 61; sewers inspected, 10; Chinese and Japanese quarters inspected, 40.

The report of Dr. T. Carpenter, veterinary and food inspector, is as follows: Inspections of grocery and produce stores, 44; inspections of bakeries and restaurants, 13; inspections of butcher shops, 14; packages of food stuffs condemned, 13; pounds of meat condemned, 2; inspections of dairies, 35; milk tests conducted, 67; average per cent of butter fats, 4.0; average per cent of cream, 10.7; physical examination of cows, 60; cows condemned, 3; horses treated and examined for City Department, 1.

CIRCUS IN TOWN.

ALAMEDA, September 13.—The circus came to town today and in view of the attractions of Barnum & Bailey's great aggregation of world wonders the Board of Education felt obliged to bow to the inevitable. The Alameda School Department felt that it could not attempt to teach the young idea "how to shoot" while the elephants were going round, and wisely ordained a half holiday.

No schools were open this afternoon. When the last circus struck Alameda the classrooms were deserted. The High School pupils deserted in a body, the young men joining in the parade. In consequence of the absence of pupils threatened to suspend a horse of pupils. To avoid any misunderstanding upon this occasion a half holiday has been granted.

"CO-EDS" GRIEVE

Sorority Maidens Students Will be in Distress at College.

BERKELEY, Sept. 13.—Where the Sorority girls gather at the University of California there is grief, wailing and lamentation, as the result of the new agreement which the sororities agreed at the beginning of the term, "the matter of 'rushing' freshmen 'co-eds'."

When the answers of the freshmen "co-eds" who had been invited to join the various societies of the University were opened today, it was found that two sororities, the Kappa Gamma Gamma and the Kappa Alpha Theta had secured the largest number of freshmen "co-eds" to represent each society.

Ordinarily these freshmen women who are regarded as the most desirable material for membership in the exclusive sororities are pretty evenly divided among the Kappa Gamma Gamma and the Kappa Alpha Theta societies. The result of the Pan-Hellenic agreement entered into between the sororities at the opening of college in the matter of "rushing" freshmen women students and so the Pan-Hellenic has been "something terrible." Wise thought girls proposed last summer that all this competition be done away with, and that no arguments be used to secure members, but to refrain from several arguments, "hooking" or any sort of persuasion.

The humbler sororities and the vicer, more fashionable societies all entered into the agreement. It has now developed, as a result that the fashionable sororities have captured practically all the freshmen girls who were most desired by all the sororities. The result has been that the sororities have produced answers, Kappa Gamma Gamma and the Kappa Alpha Theta, richest and most exclusive of the sororities.

The freshmen girls, dazzled by the splendor of the appointments in these two sororities have succumbed, not counting the cost, perhaps, as the other sororities say, but falling easily into the net of the two sororities in question.

It is because of this that the Pan-Hellenic agreement is being considered in a feminine way, with the prospect of a rejection by the disgruntled sororities almost certain, when next year comes.

IN ADDITION TO those who have already tried out, a large number of singers have signified their intention of trying for places in the club. President Meyer has announced that there is a chance for all undergraduates who care to compete. Any student who can pass the test is eligible for membership. A large number of candidates are expected to turn out this evening.

Following are the names of those who passed the last try-outs:

First tenors—L. N. Bailey, '06; A. Buchanan, '05; J. L. Neighbor, '06; J. R. Rhea, '07; W. Tuller, '08.

Second tenors—R. Cohn, '08; C. P. Finger, '07; G. E. Hill, '08; C. H. Jordan, '07; W. B. Pendleton, '08; S. Rount, '06.

Second Basses—T. E. Ambrose, '05; E. S. Boalich, '07; J. L. Dobbins, '05; J. R. Grimsfield, '08; H. Hidden, '06; R. H. F. Varel, '06.
